Compensation Expected

Nail tech graduates earn from $20,000 to $25,000 in salary and gratuities in an entry level position depending on the work schedule and the area population. A commission scale is commonly used to pay nail techs resulting in much higher pay after an introductory period of several months. Retail commissions are also common. Many salons now offer benefits resulting in higher earnings.

Physical Demands of Nail Technology

There are physical demands placed on the body in any career. In nail tech, care must be taken to protect your wrists, hands, and fingers. Regular exercises will benefit individuals in the profession. Regular exercise will help promote overall body conditioning and will improve circulation in the legs and feet. We recommend consulting your doctor before beginning any exercise program.

Safety Requirements of Nail Technology

Safety suggestions for this profession include keeping chemicals away from your eyes or your client's eyes. If a product should get into the eyes, flush the eyes with water immediately and call a doctor.

Keep small children away from the nail tables at all times.

A mask may be worn during the filling of artificial nails to prevent dust particles from being inhaled. The use of a low-dust product will also alleviate this problem.

Licensing Requirements for Nail Technology in Missouri

Nail technology graduates completing 400 hours and all course work may take the state board exam to receive a manicuring license in Missouri. The exam covers nail tech theory and Missouri law and rules related to nail technology.
